Mentor's Guide to Dubhacks

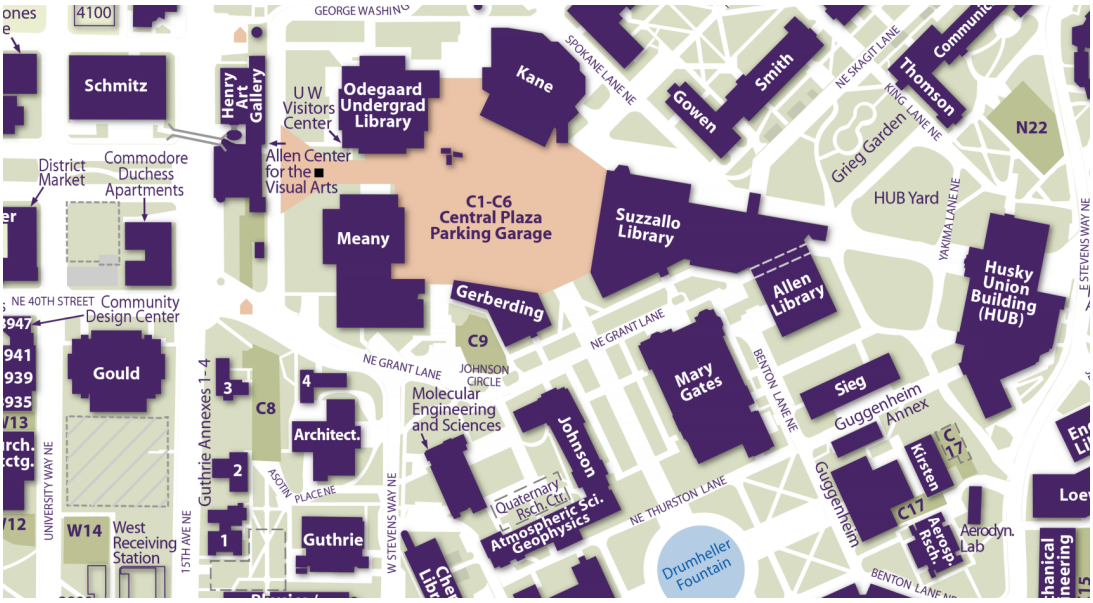

Thank you so much for choosing to be a mentor at DubHacks! Experienced mentors like you help make this community event possible, allowing student developers to innovate and learn.

Mentors get involved at DubHacks by helping students with their projects, improving their self-confidence and validating what their build.

General Info

DubHacks will open for registration at 3:30pm Saturday, October 17, and end at 9pm Sunday, October 18. It will be hosted in Kane, Johnson, and Mary Gates Halls on the University of Washington's campus in Seattle, WA.

Please make sure you are registered on 15f.dubhacks.co/mentor before you arrive. This will ensure we have your contact information.t

When should I arrive? Please arrive at least half an hour before your designated mentoring slot. If you would like to attend the opening ceremony and start mentoring when hacking time starts, please arrive between 4-5pm on 10/17

If I'm driving, where should I park? Parking on the UW campus is complimentary from noon on Saturday until 6:00am Monday. There is a parking garage under Red Square (Central Plaza) that you may use.

Where should I stay the night? You can stay at a number of hotels near the University of Washington: tiny.cc/dubhacks-hotel

Mentorship

How does Mentorship Work? Each mentor will receive a hat, this will identify you as a mentor to students. There will be a list online as well with information about the mentors on the website as well, with any contact information you may have provided when you sign up*, and the times you were willing to join, and the kind of technologies that you specialize in. Students can use your contact information to contact you during the event, requesting assistance in their area of technology.

What should I bring? We suggest you bring your laptop, charger and any hardware you would like to hack with.

What should I wear? If you represent a sponsor, please wear company gear, making it easier for a hacker, using tools provided by your company, to recognize you and ask for help . Otherwise you are free to dress however you want. If you plan to stay overnight, feel free to bring pajamas to wear overnight for comfort.

What should I look out for? We will have a mentor information session after the opening ceremony. Additionally, we will have three information sessions across the two days, they are mentioned in the schedule above. You are free to contact us with any questions you have.

* If you would like any information to not be displayed please contact us and we will remove it for you.
